

NEW ENGLAND.

The Boston Museum of Fine Arts. The Boston Journal says:—The committee of fifty having the charge of the subscription now being raised are making commendable progress. The assurance they receive of the interest of all classes in this enterprise indicates its popularity, though public attention has scarcely awakened to a full consideration of the importance of the project. It will be an institution which will become in the course of a very few years the principal object of interest to strangers, and our own citizens will appreciate it as affording to them a resort where they can pass an hour or more, as time permits, seeking either amusement or instruction. The land which it will occupy is worth to-day some four hundred thousand dollars. Nearly two hundred thousand dollars have been subscribed by residents of Boston and other places. Stephen Salisbury, of Worcester, making the generous subscription of five thousand dollars. The paintings and statuary of the Athenaeum, the Gray collection of engravings of Harvard College, the Appleton contribution of rare engravings, the collection of armor made by the late Colonel T. Bigelow Lawrence, will find place beneath its roof. The Museum, therefore, represents an inconsiderable sum at the present moment, reduced to a cash valuation the property already exceeds seven hundred thousand dollars. The trustees propose, however, to secure its permanent prosperity by avoiding any incumbrance in the shape of a debt. They will proceed to the erection of a portion of the edifice whenever the subscription will warrant it. As it is the wish of all interested that the Museum should be free to the public, a portion of the money will be appropriated to the payment of the running expenses. When one hundred thousand dollars more is pledged, we shall see the work of building commenced, and this amount will be freely given by the people, when they see the Museum of Fine Arts will be not merely a new attraction, but an institution which we feel certain will be regarded with the greatest pride by all classes.

THE LATEST NEWS. New Dominion Advices. Proceedings of the Parliament. The Fenian Raids. Etc. Etc. Etc. Etc. Etc. FROM THE DOMINION. [Proceedings of the Parliament. OTTAWA, April 4.—In the Commons Mr. Cartwright, a prominent member of the Opposition, moved an address to the Queen respecting the withdrawal of troops and munitions of war from this country. He considered the policy of the Imperial Government a wise one in general, but, with exceptional circumstances in regard to Canada, he regarded as warranting a different course. He thought Mr. Scott's murder should have been treated in the same manner by the Imperial authorities as the cases of the Abyssinian captures; but in this matter, as in that of Fenian Raids claims, and in correspondence generally, he asserted that the Imperial authorities were cool and indifferent concerning the interests of Canada. After referring to the subject of independence, which he desired to keep in the background, he concluded by moving an address to the effect that, while fully recognizing the duty of Canada to maintain military defenses, and expressing an opinion in opposition to The Imperial Policy, in view of the peculiar and analogous position of the Dominion, countermeasures for thousands of miles with powerful States, many of whose inhabitants are notoriously actuated by sentiments of bitter hostility to the British empire, we cannot but feel that the withdrawal of troops is calculated to excite much uneasiness in the minds of many of her Majesty's subjects on this continent. Sir George E. Cartier said, as his address expressed generally the wishes of the Government they would not oppose it, but he reminded the mover that there were garrisons at Quebec and Halifax. The House went into Committee on the Address, reported, and asked leave to sit again.]
